A MESSAGE FROM THE MAYOR

Dear Friends,

A city is what we are. A community is who we are – a state of being that ties us together through challenges and opportunities, ultimately defining our quality of life.

Rialto is blessed with a tremendous sense of community – something your city leaders are committed to preserving. Through initiatives such as our California Gang Reduction, Intervention and Prevention (CalGRIP)

Program or amenities such as our newly completed “Rails to Trails” walking, biking and jogging path, enhancing community is our pledge to you.

It takes a village of supporters to make it happen – from grant money to the generous sponsorships we receive from our businesses and others to fund community programs. Through grants, the Police Department this year received $1.4 million from the state to pay for the CalGRIP program, a three-year initiative involving police officers working with schools, community-based and faith-based organizations. Additionally, Rails to Trails was funded, in part, by a $2 million state grant. These partnerships are all part of who we are – again, the community that is Rialto – and we could not be more grateful to all of those who believe enough in us to invest in our city.

How can you get involved? First and foremost, by participating. If you haven’t walked or biked Rails to Trails, please do. It’s a chance to enjoy fresh air and unparalleled views of our community. Join in on our family-friendly seasonal activities, and take advantage of our weekly Farmer’s Market every Wednesday where you can purchase local farm fresh produce, baked goods and more, at great prices. Share your positive experiences via social media by telling the world about our community. Add up all of our Facebook, Twitter and other social media connections, and we have the opportunity to reach millions of people every day.

Let everyone in on our little secret – this wonderful community we call home!

Sincerely,

Deborah Robertson

Rialto

A Community Message

Over the past several months, you've heard – and read – plenty about the severe drought we're experiencing here in the Inland Empire and throughout California.

But what can you, as an individual user, do about it?

Plenty. And with most of Rialto now under a state-mandated 28% reduction in water usage, changing our water habits is no longer optional... it's everyone's responsibility.

The City's web site – www.rialtoca.gov -- has information about the restrictions and what you can do to help Rialto save water.

In the meantime, did you know that:

- As much as 70% of residential water usage is outside the home? By limiting the number of days you water your lawn, replacing your lawn with drought-resistant landscaping and performing routine maintenance on your sprinkler system, you can significantly reduce your water usage.
- On average, 14% of your indoor water use is lost to leaks? Be sure to check and repair all indoor fixtures, and consider replacing with water-efficient models.
- Using a low-flow showerhead can save 15 gallons of water during a 10-minute shower. And that showers use 35% less water than baths?
- Toilet flushes can send nearly 20 gallons a day down the drain, or that switching to a water-efficient toilet can cut usage by as much as 50%?
- Nearly 22% of indoor home water use comes from doing laundry? You can save by adjusting the settings on your machine to match your load size and making sure your machine is identified as energy and water efficient.
- Rebates are available for turf and sprinkler replacements, low-water toilets and high-efficiency washing machines. For more information, contact the Rialto Water Service at (909) 820-2546 or visit the West Valley Water District website at www.wvwd.org.

Help safeguard Rialto's water future. Together, we can make a difference.

CRIME ANALYSIS

Message from the Police Chief Tony Farrar

I am truly honored to represent the hard working men and women of the Rialto Police Department.

This past year was another very successful one for us. First, our PRIDE Platoon Youth Leadership Program received the James Q. Wilson Award for Excellence in Community Policing from the California Peace Officers Association. Second, the Department received the Motorola / Webber Seavey Award for Quality in Law Enforcement and Innovative Programs from the International Association of Chiefs of Police. Next, the Department has been nominated for the Harvard Innovations in American Government Award for 2015. This award is the nation's preeminent program devoted to recognizing and promoting excellence and creativity in the public sector. Finally, we celebrated the 30th anniversary of our Police Volunteer Program, one of the longest running volunteer programs in the country.

As we enter 2015, we have a lot to be proud of in terms of crime and public safety. In 2013, Rialto experienced significant decreases in crime. Violent crime was down 14.93% and property crime was down significantly over 20.21%. In 2014, this trend continued with violent crime down 24.42% and property crime down 20.94%; with an overall decrease in Part One Crime of 22.68%. Additionally, we are continuing to see a drop in our juvenile crime. A three year analysis since the inception of the PRIDE Platoon Program has shown that weapon-related arrests decreased 60%, violent crime arrests decreased 53%, property crime arrests decreased 26%; with overall juvenile arrests down 40%.

We will continue to focus on reshaping the Area Command model of Community-Based Policing. This highly successful program is designed to encourage open communication, enhance community confidence, and streamline the delivery of police services.

We will look forward to new and innovative projects to include a department radio show, the implementation of a new gang reduction and education program (CAL-GRIP) focusing on our youth, a new program geared towards educating our community members on the importance of keeping our neighborhoods safe by reporting crime, and focusing on school safety and youth interaction by increasing the number of School Resource Officers.

We will continue to share resources with our neighboring cities (Regionalized SWAT and Air Support Programs), along with pursuing state and federal grants for police safety and emergency equipment, technology projects, school safety, youth accountability and gang reduction programs.

We will continue to utilize technology to share public safety information with our citizens including our department website; Facebook, Nextdoor, Tip411, Crimemapping.com, digital signage, media outreach, public service announcements, and high speed emergency notification systems such as NIXLE.

We will continue to embrace volunteerism and community pride; working to enhance the great programs that we already have in place. But most off all, we will continue to foster the great community relationships we have worked so hard to establish over the past several years.

We will continue to move forward as an organization, striving to become the premiere law enforcement agency in the Inland Empire region of Southern California. We understand that the fear of crime can be best reduced through the balanced delivery of policing that consists of three components, prevention, intervention and enforcement. We also recognize that maintaining community safety can only be achieved with the support and involvement of our community.

"At its core, policing is about community service. It is about making neighborhoods stronger and fostering an unwavering feeling of safety, security and community trust."

RIALTO POLICE

EXPLORERS POST #200

The Rialto Police Department is fortunate to have Explorer Post #200, a career exploration program, sponsored by our department and which is affiliated with the Boys Scouts of America. The Explorer Post began in 1975 and has been the starting point for many law enforcement officers. The program is one of career exploration and education for youth ages 14 to 21, interested in learning and excelling in a professional career of law enforcement. Currently, our post has 22 members, all of whom play an important role in our organization; we are hoping to expand our post to 40 members.

This position is very prestigious with the explorer assuming and being assigned a very large role of responsibility. The explorer is instructed and educated about the methods of police work. During the process of growing through the explorer program, fundamentals of discipline, work values and the practices of law enforcement are taught and strictly adhered to.

Explorers participate in many community and police functions which include: traffic control during parades and city events, police patrol ride-alongs with police officers; special assignments to include gang sweeps, search warrants, DUI checkpoints, and Undercover operations and police patrolled security in addition to many city wide special events donating more than 6,500 hours of service to the department and community.

Each year we go to the California State Officer Memorial in Sacramento, compete in a Nationwide Explorer competition in Las Vegas, as well as participate in our City of Rialto's Open House, International Festival, National Night Out, Halloween Hi-jinks, and any other events that the City may need us for.

The Explorer Post holds weekly meetings on Wednesdays between 5:00 pm - 8:00 pm and address training topics related to law enforcement as well as incorporating training in areas of civic involvement and special projects which benefit the entire community.

The success of the Law Enforcement Explorer Post is obvious, as several of the current officers received their first exposure to police work in this program. Applications can be picked up at the front counter of the Police Dept. lobby Mon. - Fri., 5 pm - 8 pm.

VOLUNTEERS

You can make a difference!

The Rialto Police Volunteers are involved in several aspects of service to the Police Department. Among other things, they assist with traffic control at accident and crime scenes, conduct citizen and vacation patrols, help out at DUI check points host Neighborhood Watch Meetings, conduct station tours, assist with the City's Hazardous Waste Days and conduct free child fingerprinting at a variety of City and Police Department events.

Our volunteers also assist with many City events which include National Night Out, the annual Christmas Parade, Halloween Hi-Jinks, and the Family festival just to name a few.

There are currently 33 Police Volunteers, and 96 Neighborhood Watch Groups. Volunteers donate approximately 5,000 hours of service to the Department annually. We are indebted to this fine group of men and women who selflessly dedicate themselves to assisting the Rialto Police Department.

If you are interested in becoming a volunteer, please fill out the Volunteer Packet located on the Police Department website (rialtopd.com) and return a signed hardcopy to the Police Department front counter, attention Corporal Gerard.

SAFE  HOUSE

Rialto Police Department
Electronic Home Surveillance Program

Your home can be a target of opportunity for burglars when you are away on vacation.

The Rialto Police Department wants to help protect residents' property from opportunistic thieves with a new vacation program designed to catch criminals in the act.

Beginning in May 2014, Rialto residents can contact the Rialto Police Department before leaving for any extended period of time and arrange for an police officer to place a small tracking device that can be hidden on items of value that are particularly attractive to burglars, such as home electronics, safes, or other items.

The motion sensitive device is activated once the resident leaves on vacation. Any movement of the device will set off a signal that sends a text to both the resident and the Police Department. Officers tracking software with the device to quickly locate the stolen property and the thief.

Where is the Rain?

Drought is nothing new to California where it is either wet or dry with not much in between. California has built, and continues to build, its water system around this “feast or famine” hydrology, capturing water when it is available in wet years and storing it for use during droughts.

That said, this current drought is setting some new records with 95% of the state experiencing severe drought conditions, or worse.

In addition to its feast or famine hydrology, California is also unique because most of the water falls on the northern part of the state while most of the people live in the southern part of the state. About 20% of the Sierra Nevada Mountain runoff that would have flowed under the Golden Gate Bridge into the Pacific Ocean is captured and sent south to people and farms. Currently, the City of Rialto imports about 16% of its water supply from northern California. San Bernardino Valley Municipal Water District is the local State Water Contractor that imports water via the State Water Project and sells it to retail water agencies like Rialto.

Rialto's Water Supply Portfolio

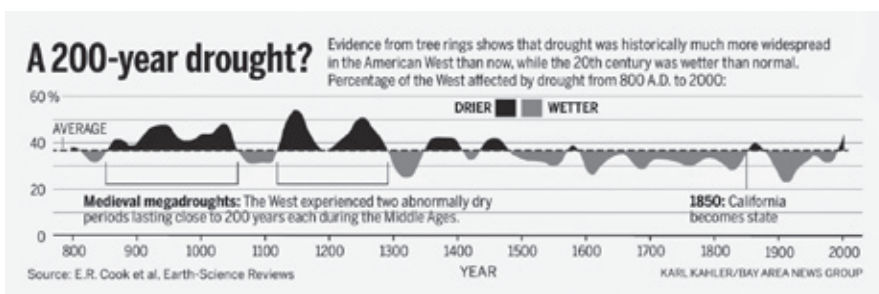

Because California heavily depends upon rain in the North, snowpack in the Sierras becomes an important indicator for water supply conditions. Snowpack is important because it detains rainfall, as snow, and then slowly releases that water, as the snow melts, in the spring and summer allowing increased capture of more of this supply. This runoff helps fill the state's reservoir system. This year, the snowpack set a new historic low and last year was one of the lowest on record.

The City of Rialto gets most of its water from local precipitation that flows in Lytle Creek (12%) and from local precipitation that gets stored underground in the space between soil particles, as groundwater (72%). Due to the current drought conditions, underground storage levels are at historic lows. While water managers expect storage levels to go up in wet periods and down during drought periods, there is no way to predict when the next wet period will occur to re-fill the underground basin. Tree ring data suggests that past drought periods in California may have been as long as two centuries! Not knowing when the rain will return is what causes the Governor and water managers to want to stretch current water supplies as far as possible this year, in case we have another dry year next year, and even the year after that.

San Bernardino Valley Municipal Water District has estimated that about 46 inches of rainfall is needed to re-fill local groundwater basins. As a comparison, average rainfall in the area is around 16 inches and the recent storms this summer provided about 2 inches of rain. So, the area would need to receive more than 20 storms like the one we had this summer! Fortunately, when the rain comes, it can fill the underground basin in as quickly as 3 years.

Due to the diversity of Rialto's water portfolio and the careful planning of water managers, Rialto is not in a drought emergency like some areas in California. Rialto will not run out of water today, tomorrow or next year. That said, California is in the midst of a severe drought that is impacting imported and local water supplies with no end in sight. Given the uncertainty of the drought, Californians must, once again, work together to make it through. With each of us doing our part, we will not only get through this drought but will learn how to better stretch our water supplies which will help us make it through the next drought.

Seeds of Hope Outreach has been serving the community for more than 5 years. Our goal is to feed, serve, educate and employ individuals, families and communities with Love, Support and to lead a hand to those who are down and out.

Seeds of Hope Outreach was established in 2007. The original inception was a home for men. From the home for men the desire to feed the hungry and hurting was born. Since that time they have distributed food to more than 30 organizations who help the poor. A few of the organizations they have assisted are: Mary's Table, Cooley's Outreach, Bibleland, Agape Foster Youth Services and the earthquake victims in Mexico. It is their vision to help those in need of education and employment. Seeds of Hope Outreach is committed to making this world a better place.

Winter time is always a difficult time for individuals and families who are in need. Just trying to keep warm can be a day to day struggle. You can easily help...just take a few minutes out of your day and clean out your closet and donate those gently used coats, jackets and sweaters for all ages that no longer fit or you just don't wear.

The Seeds of Hope Outreach will be on hand to collect these items on the next Community Clean-up Day so that they may be shared with those less fortunate.
